

Have an interest in Teaching as a Profession?

- This pathway will give you an idea about what employment is like in the field relating to teaching.
- Throughout the three courses of the pathway you will learn about employability skills, teaching with current technologies, effective teaching and learning strategies, opportunities for diverse learners, and planning lessons according to the subject standards.
- Students will be engaged in internship opportunities to teach and observe with a successful mentor teacher.

Future Georgia Educators is a co-curricular or extracurricular program designed to provide middle and high school students with the opportunity to explore careers in education. Many adults recall Future Teachers of America (FTA) clubs in high schools when they were students. FGE is a version of the same idea, only customized to Georgia .

FGE is the Career Technical Student Organization (CTSO) for this pathway. Students will have opportunities to compete with other schools in the state and nationally. This CTSO also serves as a networking platform for students and offers scholarships for college.

TEACHING AS A PROFESSION PATHWAY

Examining the Teaching Profession Course 1

Prepares students for future positions in the field of education with a competitive edge for either entry into the education global marketplace and/or the post-secondary institution of their choice to continue their education and training.

Students will study, apply, and practice the use of current technologies, effective teaching strategies, learning environments, instrumental opportunities for diverse learners and students with special needs, and plan instruction based on curriculum standards.

Contemporary Issues In Education Course 2

Students are engaged in observations, interactions, and analyses of critical and contemporary educational issues.

Students will investigate issues influencing the social and political contexts of educational settings in Georgia and the United States.

Against this backdrop, the candidate will reflect on and interpret the meaning of education and schooling in a diverse culture and examine the moral and ethical responsibilities of teaching in a democracy.

Teaching as a Profession Practicum (Internship) Course 3

The practicum offers students active teaching experience with a certified teacher mentor.

Students will observe, analyze and classify activities of their mentors while comparing personal traits with those of successful teachers.

The student interns will:

- Plan and teach lessons
- Understand and practice confidentiality as it pertains to the teaching profession
- Meet the needs of students with special needs
- Practice professionalism and demonstrate ethical behavior
